Linkedin: <https://www.linkedin.com/nhome/?trk=>

Joel Govan Joined STP in 2007 and is currently our Townsville Structural Drafting Manager / Engineering Technologist. He possesses both technical skills and a working knowledge of the construction industry. Joel is accomplished at working with clients and consultants to deliver suitable outcomes.

Joel also has the ability to think and design in 3D. Using Revit and his technical skills in structural detailing, Joel can create building information models (BIM) to all levels of development (LOD).

Joel's wide structural experience extends from renovations and residential jobs, right the way through to industrial, infrastructure projects and high rise developments. Within this variety of experience an extensive range of client engagement has been undertaken including; all levels of government, private practice and international consultation. This experience has provided Joel the background experience required for him to undertake any structural project.

Background & Experience

Joel Graduated from USQ in 2012 with an ADCE and furthered his studies to 2015 where he graduated with a BEngSci. Joel continues to study with USQ, further developing his skills and knowledge. Joel's working carrier started out in the surveying field where his base knowledge began. After a period in the UK working and travelling he returned home and took up a full time roll with STP consultants where he has flourished under the guidance of STP's mentors. Joel's ability to time manage and coordinate with consultant teams is an asset to all projects he is involved in.
